

LAW & POLICY GROUP | GRIST

HONG KONG TO RAISE MINIMUM WAGE IN MAY

By Mercer's Stephanie Law, Stephanie Rosseau and Fiona Webster
29 Jan 2019

The statutory minimum wage in Hong Kong will increase to $37.50 an hour, up from HKD $34.50, as of 1 May 2019, the government said. The monthly monetary cap on the recording of the total number of hours worked will also increase on 1 May to HKD $15,300, up from HKD $14,100. If employees are paid at least the monthly cap, employers don't have to record their total number of hours worked.

RELATED RESOURCES

- Press Release (Hong Kong Government, 11 Jan 2019)

Note: Mercer is not engaged in the practice of law, and this article, which may contain commentary on legal issues or regulations, does not constitute and is not a substitute for legal advice. Mercer recommends that readers of this article secure the advice of competent legal counsel regarding any legal matters related to this article or otherwise.